

We are an aspiring company in the energy sector and a pioneer in the use of hydrogen in the mobility sector. We develop the hydrogen market with our partners and customers with projects in various, economically sensible applications. We connect producers and consumers in a sustainable economic environment.

To strengthen our team, we are looking for someone with immediate effect or by appointment

M&A/(Project) Finance Manager (100 %)

- Your field of responsibility
- You control and coordinate global M&A transactions and joint venture projects.
- You carry out financial models and prepare and coordinate investor presentation materials
- You are responsible for planning and coordinating the due diligence.
- You will support the development of optimal transaction/finance structure as well as the contract design.
- You will be directing debt financings and maintain a bank pool for financing
- Further development of the Debt Investor Relations Story

Your skills and experience

- Master's degree in Finance or Business or related field from a top-tier university or equivalent
- Minimum of 5-10 years of experience; optimally with a focus on a successful track record in a strategic project environment
- Demonstrated ability in managing projects and strategic initiatives with initial leadership experience
- Excellent analytical and conceptual skills, a structured and results-driven way of working, and a track record of developing/implementing strategic recommendations in a business environment
- First-rate communication skills and experience in collaborating with various stakeholders in a team environment
- Strong presentation skills and the ability to quickly gain trust and build solid working relationships
- Fluency in English; German. Other languages would be a plus but are not essential

What you can expect from us

- Varied and responsible job
- Working in an international growth area
- Modern, professional work environment with an open communication culture
- Start-up flair with a dynamic work and team atmosphere with flat hierarchies and a spirit of optimism
- Interesting development opportunities

We look forward to receiving your application by email:
